Amundsen Expedition Returns To Spitzbergen

Party Unable to Reach Pole Owing to Shortage of Fuel

LACK 100 MILES OF OBJECTIVE SOUGHT

Another Attempt Is Likely To Be Made in the Very Near Future

OSLO, Norway, June 18—The entire Roald Amundsen North Pole expedition arrived safely in Spitsbergen in one plane.

The party did not return to King's Bay by plane, but was picked up by a fishing boat and conveyed there.

It is reported that the expedition reached north latitude 88 degrees 24 minutes or about 100 miles from the North Pole.

The government on the receipt of the news of the arrival of the expedition in Spitsbergen, sent Amundsen a telegram with the usual terms of congratulations.

Only Meager Details.

The newspaper having a contract with the Aero Club for the news posted the fact of the safety of the expedition in their windows, but withheld the details for Friday morning's editions.

The news was received too late to affect the daily life of Oslo, but it created excitement wherever it became known. There were great joyful celebrations in the restaurants of the city tonight.

Lacking full details, everybody seems convinced that the expedition reached the pole. The people feel sure that otherwise the party would not have returned before April.

STOCKHOLM, June 18—A dispatch received here from Oslo, Norway, says the two airplanes in which Roald Amundsen's expedition set out for the North Pole on May 21, arrived in Spitsbergen Tuesday afternoon.

The dispatch indicates that the members of the expedition are safe and that it is likely a new attempt to reach the pole will be made shortly.

The dispatch stated that Capt. Amundsen used so much fuel that he was unable to continue and after descending in latitude 87.10 was forced to return to Spitsbergen.

Shortage of Gas.

Latitude 87.10, where the Stockholm dispatch says Amundsen came down because of a shortage in his supply of gas, is only 200 miles from the North Pole and about 600 miles from King's Bay, Spitsbergen, where the expedition took off on its flight.

Prior to the arrival of the Stockholm dispatch the indications were that the Amundsen planes had returned to Spitsbergen. Information received at Tuesday's Stockholm advices from Oslo mentioned that in the Stockholm dispatch possibly may be an error in the transmission of the cable.

If Amundsen's planes have been damaged in their flight and are two other planes in Spitsbergen which he and his party can use in another attempt to fly to the north pole back. These two planes, belonging to the Norwegian government, have been sent to the north to try to locate the missing North Pole expedition, arrived at King's Bay, Wednesday from Norway. They were transported from Norway on board the steamer Ingerfen and were put in the water at Advent Bay, from which place they flew over the ice to King's Bay. The two planes are in charge of Lieutenants Holm, Hyhr and Balchen, and four mechanics.

The machines used by Amundsen were Dornier-Wahls. When they took off from King's Bay they had on board everything deemed necessary in the way of equipment and provisions. Not the slightest detail was omitted. The loaded machines each weighed 9,000 kilos (6.612 pounds). The Dornier Company, which built them, had guaranteed them to fly 4,500 miles.

When Amundsen flew away, the greatest care had been taken to conceal of gasoline. Each machine had on board about 5,000 pounds. This quantity was considered by Amundsen as sufficient for the expedition to reach the north and return to Spitsbergen, still having a small supply in the tanks.

Sends Welcome.

OSLO, Norway, June 18—The Norwegian government has sent the following message to Roald Amundsen: "We extend welcome to you and your brave companions hearty greetings and congratulations on your successful journey. Welcome home."

The Seidj Aeronautical Association sent the following message:

"Welcome. Great enthusiasm over your brilliant journey."

GIVES REPORT ON FUNDS SPENT

Senate Committee Says Canteen Moneys Not Spent for Unemployment Relief

FOR OTHER PURPOSES

Should Have Been Used Only In Way to Confer Benefit on Ex-Service Men

OTTAWA, June 18—(By Canadian Press)—The senate committee inquiring into the administration of the canteen fund in referring to money granted to the Great War Veterans' Association for the Dominion convention, states that "it would not appear that any portion of the said sum of $170,000 had been spent for unemployment relief for ex-service men and their dependents."

The report states that it would appear that the whole of the $130,000 was put into the Dominion Command of the Great War Veterans' Association general fund and that the whole of the fund was expended between July, 1921, and August 31, 1922.

The moneys' states the report, appears to have been used for the services given as follows:

The Veteran Limited, $46,000; salaries, $26,652; travelling expenses, $15,546; loans to provincial commands, $11,300; postage, telegrams and telephones, $5,543; and other expenses of a similar nature.

In its findings the committee states that the moneys of the canteen fund should only have been expended in such a way as to confer a direct benefit upon all ex-service men.

The committee recommends that the whole matter be carefully investigated in accordance with the acts proposed by the government, subject to the repayment of the disbehement fund of $15,000 referred to in the committee's report dated June 11.

The evidence of representatives of other ex-soldier organizations was clear on the point that Mr. MacNeil's proper duty was to forward these cheques to the treasurer of the Dominion Veterans' Alliance, Captain T. A. M. Jones, of Winnipeg, to advise the members of the Dominion Veterans' Alliance executive committee and to wait the decision of that body as to the disposal of the cheques in question.

In its finding, the committee states: "the committee are of the opinion that the conversion of the cheques mentioned from the use of the Dominion Veterans' Alliance to the Dominion Command of the G.W.V.A. by Mr. MacNeil had the effect of defeating the intentions of the minister and deputy minister of the Department and was in violation of the agreement entered into between the minister-in-council of September 16, 1924."

The committee recommends that the sum of $15,000 be repaid to the disbehement fund from the canteen fund.

CHAS. G. FAIMAN NEVER FALTERS IN ACCUSATION

Is Witness for State, but Testimony Is Not Sponsored by Attorney

THREE TEST TUBES GIVEN TO SHEPHERD

Chief Counsel for Defence Makes Great Attempt to Ridicule Man in Stand

CHICAGO, June 18.—Testimony depended upon to prove that the death from typhoid fever of William Nelson McClintock, the "millionaire orphan," was obtained by criminal means, adduced by the prosecution today as its last step in the murder trial of William Daring Shepherd, the youth's foster father.

Charles C. Faiman never faltered in his accusation of Shepherd, and with his testimony Prosecutor Robert E. Crowe announced the state's case was ended.

Called as a witness by the court after Prosecutor Crowe yesterday announced he could not sponsor him because he could not vouch for his testimony, Faiman gave his testimony upon direct examination by Judge Lynch.

He gave Shepherd three test tubes full of typhoid bacilli, taught him how to stay young McClintock with them, gave Shepherd back an incriminating letter, demanded $25,000 for his participation in the elimination of "Billy" McClintock, was unwilling to accept $200,000 as his part and his testimony upon $100,000, Faiman told the court.

Cross-examination elicited that Faiman had been promised "consideration" by the state's attorney, and understood that meant "immunity."

Faiman is under indictment with Shepherd on conspiracy accusation.

William S. Stewart, chief of defence counsel, made an attempt to ridicule Faiman's testimony, but the latter's man's life work, along with forcing cancer research, by producing powerful falsehoods about various events connected with the Shepherd case, and told three different stories about his relations with the accused man.

His Intention

Stewart said his intention was to reveal to the jury that Faiman and his testimony were too ludicrous for belief.

The designation "doctor" claimed by Faiman, Stewart said, was a mere practice chiropody. Stewart brought out, the only art or science Faiman knew anything about, he admitted, was taxidermy.

Ten times, Faiman testified, he met Shepherd by under the lawyer wrote him the letter asking about the criminal methods of murder, but he could not remember the date or day of the month.

Under direct examination he told of they advise steps in his relations with Shepherd from a scientific standpoint, and that he was an interested prospect to a co-conspirator willing to study criminal instruments and how to connive at murder for "200 grand" Faiman said later reduced to a demand for $100,000.

CONSERVATIVE WINS IN ENGLISH ELECTION

LONDON, June 18—(Canadian Press Cable)—Sir Reginald Hall, Conservative, was victorious in the by-election in the Eastbourne division of Sussex yesterday in a three-cornered contest. Sir Reginald, a former admiral, was the Liberal candidate and Lieut.-Col. T. S. Williams the Labor candidate. The vote was as follows: Hall, 12,741; Johnstone, 5,386; Williams 5,696.

The by-election was due to the recent appointment of Sir George Lloyd, Conservative M.P., for Swindon, as high commissioner in Egypt in succession to Field Marshal Viscount Allenby.

In the general election of 1924, Sir George Lloyd was elected by a majority of 13,365 in a contest in which there was another Conservative candidate, and a Labor and a Liberal candidate.

Imperial preference was an issue in the Eastbourne by-election to some extent. Sir Reginald Hall in his election address strongly supported preference which was opposed by the Liberal candidate.

SETTLEMENT OF MINERS' STRIKE IS EXPECTED IN NEAR FUTURE

SYDNEY, N. S., June 18—(Canadian Press)—"My personal view is that a settlement can and should be brought about within the next 10 days," is the concluding paragraph and most cheerful part of a statement issued tonight by Hon. James McCurdock, minister of labor, at the conclusion of the conferences here with District 26 United Mine Workers' executive and with J. B. McLurg, vice-president of the British Empire Steel Corporation. Mr. Murdock has been [illegible] since Tuesday in conciliat[illegible] between the two which [illegible] months and a half have caused [illegible] in the coal fields of the province. The district board of the miners. Mr. Murdock states, have asked for a few days' time to canvass certain questions contained in the company's proposals for a settlement, as submitted to Mr. Murdock by Mr. McLurg, and to prepare the answers to be given to the commission to a referendum vote. The statement says that the district board is pleased to find that with the corporation's proposals, found therein only three things which appeared almost, if not entirely, impossible of acceptance. Mr. Murdock also tells in an offer of the miners to return all maintenance men pending settlement and of the corporation's refusal on the ground that they were unable to use all the maintenance men because of the present condition of the mines.

Mr. Murdock is returning to Ottawa probably tomorrow. But he will return if needed.

INSERTION OF ALTERNATIVE FORM AGREED UPON AT MEET

LONDON, June 18.—(Canadian Press Cable)—After nearly two days' discussion the House of Laity of the Church of England, comprising the lay branch of the Church of England's assembly which, subject to the final approval of parliament, legislates for the Anglican Church, finally expressed its belief that the great majority of laymen are satisfied with the present communion service as incorporated in the book of common prayer, but agreed to a resolution to the insertion of one alternative form, which allows a shortening of the wording of sentments and permits reservation of the sacrament of the sick only.

The resolution, therefore, expresses disapproval of the proposals submitted by the House of Clergy, another great section of the Anglican Church assembly, in which the most vital alteration would have been the establishment of reservation on such a basis as, according to the opponents thereof, would have amounted to recognition of the corporate adoration of the sacrament.

The discussion of the whole matter will now be removed to the House of Bishops, the House of Clergy and the House of Laity.

PROTECTION TO BE GIVEN

Great Britain Will Look After Lives and Property of Her Subjects

CHINA RESPONSIBLE

"There Can Be No Weakness or Hesitation," Says Austen Chamberlain

LONDON, June 18.—Foreign Minister Austen Chamberlain stated in the house today that the British government would protect the life and property of British subjects in China and would hold the Chinese government responsible for all injuries and all damage.

There can be no weakness or hesitation," he declared emphatically.

Such a course was the fundamental duty of every British government, the foreign secretary went on to say—"It is not a remedy for the situation, but it is the only course to take in the outrages that have taken place."

The Right Hon. Arthur Trevelyan initiated the debate on the Chinese question, and in a time repudiating any desire to attack the government, because all sections of the house were at one on the gravity of the situation and the duty of the government to take steps to protect lives and nationals. He contended, however, that it was necessary to probe the immediate situation.

The debate had been preceded by many questions on the same subject and a promise from the government to submit papers dealing fully with the industrial troubles in Shanghai and China generally at the earliest possible date, Sir Austen stated.

Replying, Mr. Chamberlain reiterated that no British government with its influence could ignore evil conditions in Chinese factories, and proceeded to a general review of the situation in China this year.

Mr. Chamberlain strongly emphasized the valuable work of the Washington conference in laying the basis for progress in China, and also argued was proof that the powers mainly concerned in China would not endeavor to exploit China for their own interests. He admitted that there had not been gathered all the hoped for fruits of that conference.

After making his declaration that British subjects would be protected he added that Great Britain would not justify the advance of a murderous mob shouting "Kill the foreigner" on a police station, occupying a large stock of arms, and it was not until the police action was endangered that the order was given to fire.

DEATH CLAIMS R. M. LAFOLLETTE

Stormy Political Career of Presidential Candidate Ends Peacefully

FIGHTS TILL LAST

Confined to Bed for Several Weeks—Suffers Severe Heart Attack

WASHINGTON, June 18—Death brought to an end today the daring and stormy political career of Robert M. LaFollette.

Peacefully, the Wisconsin senator, last year an independent candidate for the presidency, passed away at his home here, a victim of heart attacks, from which he had been a sufferer for a decade, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

To the last, Mr. LaFollette sought to ward off death's thrust as he had done on several occasions in recent years. When he realized that the fight was a losing one, he called his son, Governor Phil LaFollette, in a almost inaudible voice, gave this last message to the public:

"I am at peace with all the world, but there is a lot of work I could still do. I don't know how the people will get along without me, but I am going to the grave my love for them which has sustained me through life."

Confined to his bed for several weeks by illness which had wrecked his constitution in the last few years but had failed to weaken his spirit, the senator suffered a severe heart attack this morning which brought to his physicians a realization that the end was fast approaching.

Surrounded by his family and other members of the family at his bedside.

Without ostentation, the body will be taken tomorrow to the senator's home, Madison, Wis., for burial. No services will be held here, but on the insistence of those who stood shoulder to shoulder with him in his fight in Wisconsin, he will lie in state in the Capitol there Sunday and funeral services will be held Monday in the building where he once presided as governor.

Leaders of all political creeds were quick today to pay tribute to Senator LaFollette's record acknowledged his genius on contemporary politics. One of the first to offer condolences to Mrs. LaFollette was President Coolidge, who said he had come "to know of the end and will ever admiring energy. He has left behind him a great concourse of friends."

COUNCIL OF UNITED CHURCH CONCLUDES FIRST ANNUAL MEET

TORONTO, June 18.—The first annual meeting of the council of the United Church of Canada concluded its sessions this afternoon. The meetings have made history in Canadian church organizations, as there were many branches which the council has not completely organized and these have been left in the hands of committees.

Rev. Dr. G. C. Pidgeon, the moderator, just before adjournment commented on the success of the first meeting of the council, stating that there had not been the slightest sign of the old divisions. "Those who did not think that we could mix have been disillusioned."

The council reaffirmed the stand taken by the three churches in the past, of advocating Dominion-wide prohibition as the best means of dealing with the evil and condemning race track gambling. A resolution deploring war and approving of the League of Nations was also passed.

The report on the settlement and transfer of ministers passed without amendment. It provided that ministers of other Christian churches who desire to become ministers of the United Church should apply through presbyteries.

Rev. Isaac Alberis, presbytery, was given the right to appoint Rev. Henry Young as moderator, as the moderator of the Presbyterian presbytery there is a non-concurrent.

FREIGHT RATES MEASURE GIVEN THIRD READING

Two Amendments by Progressives Meet Defeat—No Division on Passing of Bill

MUCH DIFFERENCE OF OPINION EXPRESSED

Crows Nest Rate on Grain to Apply on Traffic Moving East

OTTAWA, June 18—(By Canadian Press)—The bill amending the Railway Act so as to clear the way for the equalization of freight rates throughout the Dominion on the report of Railway Commissioners, passed the house tonight. There was no division on third reading. Two amendments, both from the Progressive party, while the bill was in committee stage, met with defeat. Robert Forke, Progressive leader, moved that nothing in the bill should affect the effect of pending litigation between the government of Manitoba and the Canadian Northern Railway arising out of the 1901 agreement between the province and the company. This amendment the government declined to accept on the ground that it would defeat the object of the bill and hamper the railway commission in its work and it was declared lost. Another amendment providing that rates in the prairie provinces should not exceed by more than 10 per cent rates in Eastern Canada, was defeated by a vote of 109 to 34. The bill now goes to the senate.

Submit Amendments

The bill was progressing slowly through the committee stage when Hon. F. A. Crerar, Progressive, Marquette, submitted the second amendment. It was, in effect, an instruction to the Board of Railway Commissioners to give to the prairie provinces rates not to exceed by more than 10 per cent rates in Eastern Canada, was defeated by a vote of 109 to 34. The bill now goes to the senate.

Submit Amendments

The bill was progressing slowly through the committee stage when Hon. F. A. Crerar, Progressive, Marquette, submitted the second amendment. It was, in effect, an instruction to the Board of Railway Commissioners to give to the prairie provinces rates not to exceed by more than 10 per cent the rates fixed or approved for the same commodities in the territory lying East of Sudbury." It added a proviso that nothing in this amendment should be taken as an implication that rates in our district were to be higher than rates in any other.

Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of railways and canals, declined to accept the amendment on the ground that it would involve giving additional preferential rates to the west as compared with other parts of Canada.

Debate today followed along lines already laid down since the introduction of the bill. Representatives of the Conservative and Progressive parties parried criticisms of the government measure, and at one stage in the debate, Mr. Graham moved, amid laughter, that it should be made clear that the Crow rates on grain and grain products apply on traffic moving eastward over all lines of railway in the West of Fort William and Port Arthur.

Is First Speaker

Murray McLaren, Conservative, St. John-Albert, was the first to rise, but one and claimed that the bill had been framed in the interests of political expediency. He asked fair treatment for the maritimes and expressed opposition to the bill.

Donald M. Kennedy, Progressive, Edmonton West, followed, and he too expressed opposition to the measure, terming it a step backward. The bill, he said, did not bring to Canada any nearer equalization of freight rates than in the past and he thought that the effect might be to increase rates on commodities other than grain and flour which were formerly under the Crow agreement.

T. L. Church, Conservative, Toronto North, stated that if the sectional appeals were heard, a state structure "resembling the Tower of Babel" would result. "All Ontario wants is a fair share and equality of treatment," he declared. The people had no hesitation in leaving the matter with Commissioners, which was "a political institution."

Says Rates Profitable

Hon. T. A. Crerar disagreed that the bill would result in discrimination in favor of western Canada against the east. He maintained that the present maximum rates fixed in the bill on grain were profitable, in the case of many companies were concerned. It was wise on the part of Canada, he thought, to adopt the bill that the Crow rates should not be expended on grain and flour. The amendment introduced by him, he stated, was for the purpose of embodying in the statutes the principle of equalization.

He declared the Crow rates had never been discriminatory rates in favor of western Canada. The west was not asking for special treatment, but for justice.

Hon. Henry Drayton said that if the grain and flour rates were remunerative, then Mr. Crerar should have no hesitation in letting the agreement go.

Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of railways and canals, stated that the government could not accept the amendments moved by Mr. Crerar, which, he said, would give additional preferential treatment to the three provinces over other parts of Canada.

Amendment Is Defeated

Robert Forke, Progressive leader, moved an amendment to clause four of the bill providing that nothing therein contained shall in any way affect the pending litigation between the government of Manitoba and the Canadian Northern Railway arising out of the agreement between said province and the said company. Mr. Forke, in moving his motion, explained that the province had lost an appeal to the supreme court of Canada and the case had been referred to the judicial committee of the privy council.

Mr. Graham said that such an amendment would defeat the very object of the bill. It had been the intention of the government to settle all the old agreements in order to make the way clear for the railway commission's work of equalization.

The chairman called for ayes and nays on Mr. Forke's amendment, and it was declared lost. The bill was reported at once from committee and given third reading.

WASKATINAU CROPS ARE SATISFACTORY

(By Bulletin Correspondent)

WASKATENAU, June 13.—The rainfall on Tuesday evening was very welcome. The crops in this district are coming ahead very satisfactorily.

During the summer months the general stores will close at six o'clock on Mondays and Wednesdays.

Mr. Tom Evans has returned from Smoky Lake to take up his former position with Mr. Wolf again, and is bringing his household effects this week. A welcome back is extended to him and Mrs. Evans.

The workmen have arrived from Ashmont and are going ahead very quickly with the building of the Church of England.

Mr. Jack Andrews is building a new residence on a site more convenient to the large new barn which was completed last autumn. It is very encouraging to see these newer and more fully modern farm buildings being built throughout this district.

A very successful dance was held last Friday at the home of Mr. Jack Grey.

On Saturday evening, June 13, the Smoky Lake Baseball team came to Waskatenau to play a return game. This time, however, they did not repeat their former success, Waskatenau winning a very good game by the score of 12-9. A game between Spruce Road and Waskatenau called for Tuesday evening, June 16, had to be postponed on account of the rain.

A large number of members and friends attended the U.F.W.A. tea-cent tea on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. Warr. Tea was served on the lawn, and the combination of beautiful weather, attractive lawn and trees proved a very favorable setting for the gathering.

Mr. J. W. Sanies, who recently purchased D. Phillips' farm, is spending the summer travelling in the United States and is at present in Indiana.

Waskatenau is planning to hold a monster picnic and sports day on July 1, bills of which will be posted later. There will be a brass band in attendance.

YOUNG ENGLISHMAN DROWNS IN RIVER

RED DEER, June 17.—Harold Ingram, a young Englishman who recently bought a farm on the Blindman, a few miles northwest of Red Deer, met his death by drowning on Monday evening. He went to the river to bathe while supper was being got ready in his house and apparently mistook the depth of the water and got beyond his depth and was drowned. Those in the house went to look for him on his non-appearance and found him in the water, dead.

On Saturday afternoon Miss Gertrude Connors gave a tea for Miss Helen Brown and Miss Zelma Moyes, both of whom will soon be leaving Red Deer. About twenty-two young ladies were present and gave expression to the regret felt at the departure of these two popular young people.

PLAN RESUMPTION OF MALINES CNFERENCE

LONDON, June 18.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The famous conferences at Malines, Belgium, under the patronage of Cardinal Mercier and several dignitaries of the Church of England and the Roman Catholic Church are to be resumed, according to the Earl of Shaftesbury, who said the goodwill of the pope and the archbishop of Shaftesbury had been accorded the coming conference. However, it would be rash, he said, to expect too much from it, although the difficulties in the way of reunion were not insurmountable.

PUBLIC SCHOOL BEING RENAMED

Many Applications Are Received from Teachers Desiring Positions on Staff

EIGHT VACANCIES

Also Many Applications for Position of Sec.-Treas.—No Selection

Frank Scott school will be renamed "Eastwood" at an early date, according to the decision of the Public School board, before whom delegates from the district involved appeared at last night's meeting. A motion for the change was made by Trustee Mrs. E. T. Bishop, and carried, with Trustees Dr. F. Crang and T. J. Johnston dissenting.

Over four hundred applications, of which 100 were from the city, were received by the board from applicants desiring positions on the public school teaching staff. After all resignations for the year had been received, however, it was found that only eight vacancies remained to be filled, and numerous applicants will therefore be disappointed.

Secretary-Treasurer

Forty-seven applications were also received for the position of secretary-treasurer, to be vacated shortly by Miss S. Wilson. As the task of choosing the new officer will be a delicate matter, it was decided to call a special meeting on Monday night to consider the question.

A proposition, which received the support of the majority of the board, has been laid before janitorial employes which involves a drastic reduction in salaries. Instead of the maximum rising to $2,100 as formerly, the new schedule proposed for those employed in the larger schools carries a minimum of $1,200, rising in two years to a maximum of $1,600.

Revised Scale

At a special meeting when the proposed revised scale was placed before raise nod tamafamafmatfmttftmeftm raised on the grounds that no other civic departments had been dealt with so drastically. The tentative report has been taken into consideration by the janitors, who requested that some time should be given for the matter to be placed before the union and another special meeting will be held on Wednesday.

Contracts for painting Norwood school and grading the Garneau school grounds were let on the recommendation of the building and grounds committee. Tenders will also be called for to construct drainage for the Jasper Place school. This question has been the subject of many representations to the board.

Next week will be a busy one for Trustees, Monday having been set aside for considering the applications for the secretaryship, Tuesday for a special meeting on teaching staff vacancies, and Wednesday the special meeting with the janitors. Thursday is the day for the regular meeting of the board.

RAILWAYS NOT ASSISTING IN TRIAL COST SHIPMENTS

Unofficial confirmation has been received here in connection with the decision of the railroad to withdraw from arrangements made to make a trial shipment of Alberta coal to the East.

When interviewed yesterday government officials said that no statement with regard to the position of the government would be made until all details were available.

It was understood that W. G. Mander, chief of the C.N.R. western lines and other railway officials were here to complete arrangements, and the failure of the undertaking was as great a surprise to them as to operators and others interested in the movement. Railway officials had no statement to make yesterday.

Large orders for coal have been placed with numerous mines along the C.N.R. lines and considerable inconvenience will have been caused by the sudden change.

FRIDAY, JUNE 19, 1925.

ONE OF THE KIND IS ENOUGH.

Sir George Foster says the paying of compensation to the depositors of the Home Bank is a precedent which may become a practice. Not if Parliament shows common sense. Undoubtedly if other banks were wrecked in that way it would be equally the duty of the public to make good the losses to those who had entrusted money to their keeping. But if the country is to guarantee bank deposits it is the duty of Parliament to see that no more banks are run that way.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS IN ORDER.

On the basis of acreage sown and present conditions Mr. James Stewart hazards the estimate that the West may thresh out 500,000,000 bushels of wheat next fall. We are a long way from fall yet, and a favorable June does not guarantee a well ripened, uniformly high-grade quality of grain. But if anybody is qualified to make a shrewd calculation of the prospect Mr. Stewart is the man. Unforeseen circumstances may make his forecast only a bad guess, but there is nothing in the conditions at present to discredit it. The prairie country over, reports were never more encouraging, if they were ever so unanimously cheering.

THE TROOPS IN CAPE BRETON.

Saskatoon citizens at a mass meeting called for the withdrawal of the troops from Cape Breton. The troops were sent there to stop free-for-all fighting between the strikers and employees of the steel corporation, and to prevent the destruction of mines, stores and stocks. They did that and have done nothing more. The Saskatoon demand is that the war of destructon be allowed to proceed without hindrance. What possible good could that do the miners or anybody else?

Who happens to own the property that was being destroyed does not affect the fact that it has to be paid for, and that the miners and the public will have to do the paying in the long run. The coal deposits belong to the province of Nova Scotia and it is property of the people of that province that would be made valueless if the mines were made unworkable. The stores and stocks belong to the steel company and immediately the loss would fall upon that corporation. But nobody need be under the delusion that the shareholders are the parties who would ultimately stand that loss. The wastage would be charged up against the producers of coal and the users of steel, and in the long run reduced wages and increased prices would recoup the company.

When property is destroyed the community is made poorer in exact proportion to its value, and every dollar has to be made up out of the proceeds of productive industry. Even a communist ought to be able to get hold of that elementary principle of communism.

THE FORFEITED PROPERTY QUESTION.

Alderman Duggan proposes that a committee of the city council be named to make an exhaustive study of the question of what to do with the land the city has taken over for non-payment of taxes. No harm could come from the enquiry, and the result might be something nearer to a solution than has yet been found. Hitherto the policy has been to hold this confiscated property at the prices asked for adjoining property, rather than to throw it on the market at cut rates and demoralize values generally. That was only fair to the property owner who has paid and is paying his taxes, at least unless and until he sanctions a contrary course.

But it has to be admitted that the civic situation does not show signs of large improvement. Stabilizing values in this way has not made private property salable. What it has done much to prevent the sale of the forfeited property may be doubted, since the demand is and has been slack and sales might not have been more plentiful at easier rates. If an enquiry of the kind is to be made it should be as thorough as possible, with special attention to the views of those who are heavily interested in city property and would thus be most affected by any change of policy. And in any event it would be unfair to reverse the practice and slash prices in order to unload without first giving the property-owners an opportunity to declare their will at a plebiscite. Since they are the parties whose interests are at stake they should have the final "say" as to whether any radical change is to be made in the present policy.

WHY NOT ENFORCE THE RULES?

Twenty-seven of the larger powers, including Great Britain, the United States, France, Japan, Italy and Germany have agreed to not use poison gas should they go to war with one another. Eighteen of them, including those cited, have also signed the protocol by which the traffic in arms is to be put under license and carried on in the light of publicity. The Geneva conference has thus brought better results than were to be hoped for. Even should none of the other countries accept these restricting conventions the signatories can make them the law of the world if they choose and have the moral courage to do so.

And why not? Crooks are not allowed to make the laws of a country and to set their own standard of conduct, in the interests of public security they are perforce subjected to restrictions they do not want and for disobeying which they are punished. Why should not the collective power of the larger countries be exercised to impose rules of civilized conduct upon states which may not voluntarily accept them, and to regulate the traffic in weapons and munitions to whatever extent is necessary to assure peace? Allowing a "backward" country to use poison gas and to import arms under cover of secrecy is much like admitting the right of a thug to use a chloroformed handkerchief and tote a revolver. If law and order are to prevail among nations as among individuals there is as much warrant to employ force in the one case as in the other to compel compliance with the necessary restraints upon individual choice.

THE FIGHT AGAINST "T. B."

Tuberculosis is a disease which attacks both humans and the lower animals. It takes a heavy toll of human life in Canada every year. It also preys upon cattle in all parts of the Dominion, and to an extent which makes it the chief menace of that branch of farming. It is what might be expected that the National Research Council and the Dominion Department of Agriculture are joining forces to find the best way to combat the disease, among people and among animals. Whether this is to be done by immunizing individuals against infection, or by treating those who have become infected, remains to be discovered. Prevention is, of course, preferable to cure, and if a way can be found to render a person or an animal or both immune from attack the eradication of the enemy will be within sight. The next best result of the inquiry would be a remedy which would destroy the germs in an organism on which they have already secured a grip.

The methods by which human beings are treated for the ailment are fairly well known. They consist mainly in the adoption of ways of living which most tend to strengthen the constitution and enable it to combat the disease. Little progress has thus far been made in the treatment of animals, at least on a scale applicable to the varying farm conditions under which cattle are raised in Canada. Practically the efforts of Government has been confined to an attempt to get rid of infected animals and thus protect healthy ones against contamination. Inspectors are sent about the country to "clean up" herds. Tubercular animals are killed and the remains destroyed, and the herd owner is given a certificate that his cattle are free of the disease. The Government pays for the destroyed animals, up to a fixed price. The effect is to check the spread of the malady, not to affect a cure of its victims. That the plan has been largely effective as a check is not to be doubted. But at best it is a defensive measure, and a costly one. Whether the loss falls upon the public treasury or upon the individual farmer, the cattle which are weeded out represent a total loss of wealth; and a handicap also to the farmer who is thus disappointed and halted in the effort to build up a herd of dairy or beef cattle.

There will be universal and most sincere hope that by the united efforts of the Council and the Department experts some means may be found which will put an end to the menace, both as regards human beings and domestic animals. Nor will there be any quibbling about the spending of any reasonable amount of money in the attempt. The victories of science over disease are not to be won except at a price, of money as well as of time, investigation, study and thought. That the Department of Agriculture is co-operating may be taken to mean that the Government is making the fight its own and will provide the sinews of war in any measure that seems necessary. With official aid and funds with which to carry on, it will be surprising if within say five years the investigators do not tell us that "T. B." need no longer be allowed to cut short the span of human life or play havoc with the farm herds of the Dominion.

Twenty Years Ago

From the Files of the Daily Bulletin, June 19, 1905

In the poorest played game of the season the Fort Saskatchewan nine defeated the local baseball team at the ball grounds last evening by the score of 9 to 4. The game was full of errors throughout and it was only by the superior pitching of the Fort Saskatchewan twirler that the Fort was able to pile up the larger score.

The band gave a short concert before the game.

Fishing is reported as splendid in the White Mud, one party having brought back 32 fine trout yesterday.

Horses are arriving daily to compete in the races at the exhibition next week. There are now over 20 racers in the stables on the grounds.

W. T. Henry brought in from his farm in Agricola on Saturday a bunch of fall wheat 30 inches in length. The wheat was pulled on the 15th.

The Thistle rink was well-filled with a most appreciative audience last evening, who listened with delight to the splendid concert given by Clarke's orchestra, who were ably assisted by the Misses Webster and Messrs. Hanby and Stutchbury, the Flowright banjo band and Mr. A. E. Hearn, banjo soloist.

Anyone passing along the St. Albert road these days will be astonished to see the stripped trees, along the roadside. A vast army of worms is at work taking all the green vegetation wherever they pass. So great are the numbers of these pests that farmers are unable to cope with them. As yet they have not damaged the grain to any great extent.

ECHOES OF THE FRAY

Calgary Albertan: Some drivers smile pleasantly as they stop at the stop signs; some scowl and mutter, and some just keep on going.

Winnipeg Tribune: The traffic cop is a standing demonstration that autocracy is the right system after all.

With the Humorists

They sat on the porch at midnight,
Their lips were tightly pressed.
The old man gave the signal
And the bull dog did the rest.

The two workmen had never seen golf played before, and they stood and watched the stout, unskilful player trying to get the ball out of a bunker. The sand flew up, but the ball remained. After seven desperate shots, the player paused for breath before trying again.

This time the ball was lobbed up, dropped on the green, and rolling gently to the pin, settled in the hole. "By gum, Bill!" said one of the workmen to the other, "he's got a devil of a job on now!"

Styles in the Hereafter.—A revival was raging in a Georgia colored church. The fruits had been considerable. One obdurate soul, however, resisted the efforts of the elder. Called to account for his reluctance, he replied:

"Yo' see how it is, Elder. I'se got a problem. I don't see how I'se gwine git mah shirt on ovah mah wings when I gits to glory."

"Dat ain't yo' problem," retorted the exhorter promptly. "Yo' problem is how is you gwine git yo' hat on ovah yo' horns."—Everybody's Magazine.

Private Jones was summoned to appear before his captain.

"Jones," said the officer, frowning darkly, "this gentleman complains that you have killed his dog."

"A dastardly trick," interrupted the owner of the dog, "to kill a defenceless animal that would harm no one!"

"Not much defenceless about him," chimed in the private, hotly. "He bit pretty freely into my leg, so I ran my bayonet into him."

"Nonsense!" answered the owner angrily. "He was a docile creature. Why did you not defend yourself with the butt of your rifle?"

"Why didn't he bite me with his tail?" asked Private Jones with spirit.

The story of the old Rutland farmer who failed to recognize his Prince of Wales at a meet, though he spoke—and grumbled—to him, recalls the story of a little Scottish schoolboy.

During one of the prince's visits to the north he was being driven through the crowded streets of a Scottish town accompanied by the provost.

The prince wore the uniform of a Highland regiment, but the provost was resplendent in his scarlet robes of office and plumed hat.

When the procession had passed, the little boy rushed home in great excitement and said:

"Mither, I've seen the prince. He looked fine in a red cloak and a feathered hat, and by the wee sitting a wee bit laddie in tartan breeks!"

The indicted science teacher, whose action in explaining the theory of evolution to his class has created world-wide interest, has made formal application to the school board for the position, it was announced.

Following similar action taken by other county school boards in Tennessee, the Dekalb county board announced that it would sign "no" contract with any teacher until first obtaining the applicants' views on evolution.

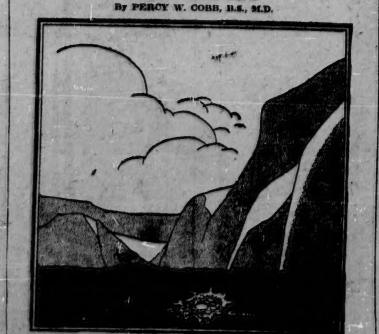
EVOLUTION

THE DAWN OF LIFE

By PERCY W. COBB, B.S., M.D.



Millions of years ago, scientists figure, life began with the simplest form of organism known—the amoeba. The amoeba, simple in structure, microscopic in size, moved about in the water by pushing forward any part of its body. It multiplied by dividing itself into two, each new half an entire organism of its ancestor.

HUGE SPORTS PROGRAM TO BE STAGED ON ELKS' KIDDIES' DAY

Two Boys and Girls from Every Public School Expected to Enter—Expect 12,000 Kiddies to Enjoy Themselves Thoroughly

July 1—Elks' Kiddies' Day—is without a doubt going to be one of the most interesting days that Edmonton kiddies will spend in many years.

All plans have been completed and a splendid program of boys' and girls' athletic events have been arranged. Many costly prizes, and in every case prizes that most girls or girls would like most to win, have been secured and will be presented to the winners of the different events. It is expected that some 12,000 kiddies will attend and accordingly, in order to see that nobody is left out, thirty barrels of lemonade, or in other words, seven hundred and fifty gallons of lemonade will be gievn away. Ice cream, pop-corn, peanuts—everything that a kiddie may want will be provided. The day will long be remembered—in more ways than one.

Expect 84 Competitors.

There are forty-two public schools in the city and it is the intention of the Elks to have two contestants representing each school that are not over fifteen years old to compete in the different events. All entries must be made by June 27th to the secretary of the Elks Lodge, McLeod Building. The entries must be made by the principals of the different schools or the athletic instructors. Especially since the School Sports have been held, it should not be any great difficulty for the principals or the instructors to select two boys to represent their respective schools on the big day. The boys will all have a splendid opportunity of winning exceptionally fine prizes and it has also been decided that the school having the most frequent point winners will be presented with a beautiful trophy. The boys competing will try for the individual honors and also have the opportunity of helping bring a splendid trophy to their respective school. It rests now with the principals.

Girls to Help.

But not only will the boys have the chance to bring honor and glory to their school—their fair playmates will also be contenders for the different events that have been arranged for the girls. The girls, they too will win many points for their respective schools and the prize winners will be able to take home many beautiful gifts of the Elks.

Baseball Game.

The Wanderers, a fast stepping nine of junior ball players, have issued a challenge to every team in the city that has not any players belonging to it over the age of sixteen. Baseball equipment ranging from catcher's mitt to fielder's glove, baseballs, bats, and in fact everything has been secured and will be presented to the first and second teams. Through the generosity of W. H. Sheppard, Edmonton Brewing and Malting Company and the Joe Simpson Sporting Goods Store, the baseball equipment has been secured. Once having viewed the different prizes the boys will undoubtedly put forward their best efforts in order to be on the first or second teams.

Make Your Entries.

All entries for the baseball tournament that will be held on the Big Day must be in the hands of J. Maloy, Elks' Home, McLeod Building, not later than June 24.

Splendid Program.

There are twenty-one events on the program for girls and boys from six years and under to girls and boys of fifteen and under. Besides the sprints, potato races, boot and shoe events, three-legged race, relay race, sack race and catching the greasy pig, there will be a bicycle race staged for the benefit of the newsboys and messenger boys that have not yet reached their sixteenth birthday.

C. S. Miller, Graydon's Drug Store, has donated a beautiful watch that will be presented to the winners of the bicycle race. Suitable second and third prizes will also be arranged for.

The Rules.

Competitors are requested to submit their names and the event in which they intend to take part to the secretary of the Elks Lodge, through their principal or athletic instructor, giving the name of the school.

All entries must be in the hands of the secretary for the athletic events before 6 o'clock on Saturday, June 27.

Prizes will be given individually to the first, second and third winners in each event. A first, second and third prize will be given to the schools winning the largest number of collective points.

A first prize will count three points; second two; and third prize one point.

All events will count in the collective prize-totalling with the exception of the last item on the program, the catching of the elusive pig.

Each school is limited to two contestants in each event except where otherwise mentioned.

Some Day!

Gee it's gonna be a big day. These kiddies that do not take part in the program will all get prizes that quite possibly, they would rather have anyway. Everyone of the 12,000 kiddies will be given at least lemonade, ice cream, pop-corn and peanuts and there is bound to be many other attractions that the kiddies will be just as delighted to receive.

The Program.

The complete program is as follows:

DR. DUNSWORTH IS VICTORIOUS

Casselman Gives Defender Hard Battle Before Being Eliminated

Yesterday saw considerable progress made at the city tennis championships at the courts of the Holy Trinity Tennis Club at the South Side exhibition grounds. The draws were almost all completed and only a slight shower fell which did not interrupt the play at all.

Several torrid battles were staged. Fred Casselman and Dr. Dunsworth, the defending city champion had a first class encounter in the men's open singles. Both were decidedly "on" in their games and provided a most attractive display to the eye. Casselman started out like wildfire and took an early lead running it out to 4-1. Here Dunsworth made his stand and by careful as well as accurate play took the succeeding five games for the set. In the second set Dunsworth improved and hitting the ball harder forced the play. Casselman played steadily and with great accuracy and against almost any other player in the city would have made things very close. As it was Dunsworth took the set at 6-1 but play was closer than the score indicates. Dunsworth was well worth his victory and Casselman was playing well enough to beat almost anyone else in the city.

Fred Mitchell former city and provincial title holder advanced another step towards regaining his laurels when he made a wonderful uphill fight to beat Oliver. Mitchell was down one set and trailing at 2-5 in the second when he made his stand. He won his own service to made it 3-5. Oliver got to 40-0 on his own service but Mitchell not only staved off defeat but evened the count and eventually ran out the third set. It was one of those matches that are tough to lose and great to win, but in winning Mitchell proved himself a great tennis player, who plays his best when in a hole.

Dyde rode along comfortably to defeat young Reg. Comyn-Ching at 6-4, 6-4, while Ken Rogers was hitting on all six to defeat Gunderson at 6-4, 6-2.

In the ladies' open singles Mrs. Bourque defeated Miss Alice Kitchener who gave the champion her stiffest opposition she has so far met in the tournament.

In the men's open doubles Robinson and Astle had to step their prettiest to down the formidable duo of Ortner and Allan. It was a match replete with thrills and excitement. Bill and Rogers dropped the first set to Gardler and Cox but made a fine recovery and took the next two.

Mr. and Mrs. Casselman held sufficient advantage to beat Mr. and Mrs. Johnson in two straight sets. Willoughby and Miss Macfarlane had the better of their argument with Brissette and Miss Lutz.

At 5:30 p.m. Misses Lutz and Macfarlane battle in the ladies' open singles. On the same draw Ted Kane will engage H. A. Dyde in what should prove a red hot embroglio. Here also Gene Carrigan and Fred Mitchell will tangle to see which will play Dunsworth in the lower semi-finals. This should be one of the battles of the tournament.

At 6:30 Ken Rogers and H. P. Robinson will settle their differences to see which will meet the winner of the Kane-Dyde match. A glance through the draw will reveal many more matches full of great possibilities.

Yesterday's results were as follows:

Men's Open Singles

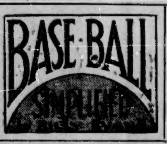
Radials Meet Rivals In Senior Amateur League Game Tonight

There should be a glittering good game tonight at Diamond Park when the Radials meet the Centrals at 7 o'clock. Both clubs have played good ball this season and it would not be the least bit surprising if in tonight's game the fans see the best Senior Amateur fixture that has yet been played this season.

Herman Loblick, star heaver for the Rogers' crew will be on the hillock toiling for the Centrals, and Clarence Campbell will be stationed behind the bat.

Either Doug. Gemeroy or Hub Thompson will be used by the Radials, while Amby Dolighan will receive his offerings.



In determining an interference play, is the umpire ever guided by whether he regarded the mixup intentional or accidental?

Interference plays are always questions of judgment. What one umpire would regard as an intereference might possibly be overlooked by another official.

Interference plays are always trouble-makers. As a result umpires hew strictly to the rules in their interpretation.

No consideration can be given the intent. If the interference is created, a penalty must be inflicted. It cannot be overlooked because in the judgment of the umpire the player who committed the fault did not intend to do so.

In a great many cases the penalty for interference may seem rather severe, since the team that seemed to be responsible for the condition gets the benefit. What is apparently a purely accidental mixup often causes the supposedly innocent player to be penalized.

TOFIELD CERTAIN DEFEATING LOCALS

With the Keats' team working out daily the baseball game Sunday afternoon between Tofield and the Edmonton All Stars should be one of the baseball titbits of the summer. According to all the supporters of the Tofield team they have a wonderful aggregation now and with Lee pitching such superb ball that he has been in the last few games—they figure there will not be much to turning in a victory.

'Tis not well to be sure. Duke Keats has a splendid nine training daily at Diamond Park and with any kind of luck the invaders should be given a very unpleasant surprise.

The game will be played at Diamond Park and will start at 3 o'clock sharp. Frank Drayton will most likely umpire.

BILLY EVANS TELLS OF RUTH'S RETURN TO SLUMPING YANKS

Bambino Had Great Day When He Made His Debut After Recent Illness—Real Maker of Baseball Drama Good Ol' King of Swat

NEW YORK, June 19.—"Don't miss any on me today," remarked Babe Ruth to me as he made his 1925 debut.

"You can't make any base hits with your bat on your shoulder," I replied. That's an old one but is always good.

"You know the Babe hasn't been in there for two months and things are going to look strange. Don't make it any tougher by missing three or four," Ruth continued.

"If they are close enough to hit, keep swinging, don't give me a chance to miss any."

The late "Silk" O'Loughlin, had he been talking to Babe, would have replied, "I never missed one in my life, and it's too late to start now."

While down in his heart it is possible that "Silk" ma have had his doubts about some of his decisions, no athlete can ever recall him admitting that possibly he missed one.

:: :: ::

Thus the Babe made his 1925 debut but in an effort to break the losing streak of the Yankees that developed the moment the big fellow left the lineup.

:: :: ::

MAKER OF DRAMA

No player in the history of baseball has supplied more drama than Babe Ruth. In the big moments he has invariably done his best work.

Fate played a queer prank in having the great Ruth make his debut against the world champions, Washington, with the famous Walter Johnson doing the pitching.

In years past, Ruth and Johnson have staged many historic battles, in which Ruth pitted his batting prowess against Johnson's pitching craft.

The first time Ruth faced Johnson he grounded out. On his next time at bat he supplied near drama. With two on and the score a tie, Ruth met one of Johnson's fast ones on the trademark and the ball started on a line for the right field bleachers. The crowd went wild; Ruth had made his first homer of the season.

The umpire must call all hits into the stands or over the fence fair or foul, according to where the ball is when it disappears from his view.

Unfortunately for the scribes, the ball was foul not over six inches. It spoiled many a good human interest story, those scant six inches.

Two innings later he made a sensational one-handed catch, one of the greatest I have ever seen.

:: :: ::

Thus Ruth in his first appearance lived up to his reputation of being the most colorful athlete in the game. In a few weeks he will be back in the headlines with a vengeance.

:: :: ::

NOT IN SHAPE

Ruth isn't quite ready. It may be a month before he is again at the top of his game.

The Babe looks great physically and apparently his operation has in no way affected his swing. His batting doesn't seem to have suffered. It is in the field and on the bases that he shows the effect of his recent illness.

Ruth has small legs, far too small it seems to carry the 260 pounds that he now carries around and he is the lightest in years.

Babe runs the bases with the same determination and pursues fly balls with his usual zeal but the legs simply balk on the assignment.

It will take at least two weeks, and possibly four, before Ruth recovers the strength of his underpinning. Until such a time he will appear slow on his feet.

:: :: ::

However, the experts who counted the Bambino as through have another guess coming. He is still the same dangerous Mr. Ruth, a pest for the pitchers.

Titanic Football Match Scheduled Tomorrow Night

One of the most titanic football matches ever witnessed in this city should be played tomorrow night at Renfrew Park when the Vets tangle with Clover Bar in the final for the Connaught Cup competition, the winner to meet either Calgary or Medicine Hat. The game will start sharply at 7 o'clock and providing the weather man behaves himself in a manner that would be most fitting for such a great game, there should be a record crowd on hand.

The best are being taken by supporters of both clubs. It would be hard to pick the winners, although the Vets seem to have whatever shade there may be.

Bill Street will handle the game. W. R. Davis and Neal Colville will be the linesmen.

In case of a replay the teams will meet once more on Wednseday, June 24.

GIRL SLAYER IS CONVICTED

Dorothy Perkins, Young Blonde, Found Guilty of Manslaughter by Jury

NEW YORK, June 18—Convicted of manslaughter by a jury of fathers, Dorothy Perkins, 17-year-old bobbed blonde who worked for a newspaper as an advertising clerk, was in jail today awaiting sentence.

At a convival Valentine party in her Greenwich Village home during a scuffle with her father over a pistol, she shot Thomas Templeton, a young bachelor whom she had refused to marry. It was the state's contention that she was trying to shoot her father, who objected to her relations with Mickey Connor, 40-year-old truck driver, now in jail for wife-beating. Her father wanted her to marry Templeton.

When the jury returned its verdict after deliberations of two hours during which some jurors argued for a first degree murder conviction, the defendant fainted. She was led from the court room sobbing for her mother. The jury refused to recommend mercy.

Sentence will be imposed Monday. The maximum penalty for the first degree manslaughter of which she was convicted is imprisonment for 15 to 20 years. The minimum is within the discretion of the court.

"A verdict like this may stop women from shooting men in the future," said Judge McIntyre in praising the jury. "Too many times have women appeared in these courts on murder charges and appealed to men's natures. In many cases they have escaped punishment."

In connection with the Edmonton Board of Trade's urgent request for local consideration in the establishment of grain survey boards in the west, the following telegram, in support of Edmonton's action, has been dispatched by Frank P. Layton, president of the Board of Trade, Camrose.

"The Hon. Charles Stewart, Ottawa, Ontario: The Camrose Board of Trade strongly endorses the action of the Edmonton Board of Trade in pressing for the establishment of a Grain Survey Board in Edmonton. Your assistance in this regard will be greatly appreciated."

WHEAT PRICES BREAK SHARPLY

Denial of Rust Reports Bring About Recessions on Winnipeg Exchange

WINNIPEG, June 19—Denial of rust reports and a very limited export business combined to bring about sharp recessions from the early high points, when July touched $1.68 5-8 and prices broke more than five cents on the local wheat market today. There was some recovery before the close, with final quotations according a loss on 1 1-4 for July at $1.65 3-8 and 5-8 higher for October at $1.39 3-8. The low quotations for the day were: July $1.63 1-4; October $1.36 1-2.

At times there was some buying of July and October by local traders and exporters took a small amount, but the trade was not large. There was also fair buying of Winnipeg October against sales of Chicago September and December at the local differences. Favorable crop reports continued to be received from the Canadian west.

Some overnight trading with the United Kingdom and the continent, imparted a better tone to the cash wheat market, and there was a better inquiry. Trade, however, was not large, coarse grain premiums were heavy, and lacked interest.

The gifts were presented in a silver tray by Katherine and Christine Macdonald. Miss Ella Parlane sang pleasingly and Miss Irene McFarlane was a pianist of the evening. Mrs. A. HEART WAS WEAK NERVES ALL GONE

Mrs. J. H. Hallenbeck, 117 1-2 Wand Avenue, St. Catharines, Ont., writes—"I was in a gas explosion; it left me with a weak heart, and my nerves were all gone. I suffered everything; couldn't sleep, or endure any excitement, and when left alone I felt as if I could scream. I took lazy spells, often falling and bruising myself. My mother read about your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and bought me a box, but having taken so many different kinds of medicine it just seemed that I did not have any confidence in any of them. I took no box of H. & N. Pills, and felt so much better I continued with them until I had used five boxes, and after I had taken them I did not need any more. I cannot praise or recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills too highly after all they have done for me."

Women's Clubs

W. M. S.

An unusually large and interested group of women filled the chibroom when the Women's Missionary Society of First Presbyterian Church met on Wednesday afternoon.

After devotional exercises in which Mrs. Christie and Mrs. Buchan took part the usual business was transacted, and reports of secretaries read.

The Watchtower given by Mrs. Montgomery was of special interest in the present crisis of church affairs. A solo was beautifully sung by Mrs. H. Broad.

Rev. Mr. Tait then delighted all present and held their closest attention while he told how to keep an organization bright, sparkling and eagerly looked forward to from month to month. He exemplified the subject by saying that the secret of a successful doctor's life was a heart full of love for and sympathy with an active interest in every individual. "Nurses, too, are never 'angels of mercy,' if by being slaves to exact form and routine they lose the charm and power which is theirs to overcome pain and suffering. If they are only human and simple," said the speaker. Many beautiful thoughts and kindly advice on how to meet the problems of work undertaken were presented for the consideration of the members who separated after the meeting, full of enthusiasm and fresh ideas for the coming year.

Weddings

LONG—CURRIE

A quiet wedding was solemnized at Alberta College North when Marian eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Currie became the bride of Erwin Long of Hamilton, Ontario. Only immediate relatives were present at the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. F. S. McColl, B.A., B.D.

The bride wore her traveling costume, a smart en semble suit in mahogany shade.

Mr. and Mrs. Long went to Red Deer where a honeymoon will be spent prior to going to their home in Hamilton, Ontario. Mrs. Long is a niece of Judge Taylor.

CASSIDY—GIBBONS

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Gibbons, 10334 125th street on Wednesday morning at ten o'clock when their youngest daughter, Alice, was united in marriage to Maurice Cassidy, son of Mrs. M. She wore a dainty wedding gown of white canton crepe with veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Rose Gibbon, who wore a sand colorgd caution crepe gown, heavily beaded.

Mr. Joseph Cassidy, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. The bridegroom's gift to the bridesmaid was a white gold watch, and to the best man a hand-carved signet ring.

Following the ceremony a breakfast was served when the table was decked with pink and white roses and centered with an attractive wedding cake, the gift of Dr. and Mrs. Macdonell.

The Tangle

Syd says that when he had about reached the landing—he is rather uncertain on the point, because everything was happening so fast and furious—that he could indistinctly see two men stoop and pick up an inanimate form and carry it into the drawing room and out through the French window.

Still thinking it was Syd rushed after them. The automobile they had parked with the engine running, started off almost before they had thrown poor Zoe into the tonneau and, with great presence of mind, caught hold of the tire rack and clung on, unknown to those in the car.

They drove to the warehouse where Jack found Zoe and two of the men carried her in. He heard one of the men say that he didn't think she was dead but that he would kill her if she didn't come across.

With a burst of profanity he talked about her double-crossing them.

It was here that Syd learned that it was Zoe instead of me and the telephone conversation came back to him.

They drove the car into an alley way and as they rounded the corner going in, Syd dropped off, and crouched behind a barrel until the driver had himself entered the building.

He said he felt he should have telephoned to the police, but it was very late and he knew no place to do this. Feeling that the emergency was great he followed as quietly as he could into the warehouse.

There he dropped in shadow behind a half open door.

Zoe was lying on the floor in the middle of a half circle composed of five men—one of which pulled her roughly to a sitting posture. Her head, he said, was bleeding badly.

The poor girl did not seem to realize where she was and dropped back on the floor when the man let go of her.

Syd heard them asking over and over again, "Come across! Where—did you put them?"

Zoe would only moan in reply.

All the men spoke the argot of the underworld except one who had the manners and the intonation of a gentleman.

While he was standing there wondering what he should do he said that one of the men rushed forward to the helpless girl, saying: "She won't come to. I think you croaked her, Jim."

The other man turned with a snarl and knocked him down. Immediately there was a terrible melee. Syd thought he could get away with Zoe in the scramble, but the one who seemed to be the gentleman sawhim and Syd was caught.

LITTLE JACK RABBIT

Now let me think, Little Reader, where and how I ended the last story. Uncle Lucky and Little Jack Rabbit were following the Fairy Bunny through the forest, weren't they? Of course, they were, as sure as you're a foot high and I'm your Uncle Dave! Well, pretty soon the Fairy Bunny came to a brook, so over he went on his wings, just like a bird. But, goodness me! The old grandfather rabbit had no wings, neither did the bunny boy. "How are we to follow you?" they both asked in the same breath.

"I forgot you are wingless," answered the Fairy Bunny, turning around at the question. "Let me see," and he wrinkled his pretty forehead. Just the way you and I do, Little Reader, when we are worried about something. Just then a big black Spider looked out of her web that hung on a fern close to the water's edge. "I'll spin a bridge over the water," she agreed, and at once setting to work, she spun a long cable and tossed it over on the opposite bank, where it clung to a bush. Then running along it back and forth, I can't remember how many times, she wove and spun one long rope after another until, wonderful to relate, she finished a nice little bridge, over which dear Uncle Lucky and Little Jack Rabbit hopped very carefully. Oh, my yes. They were very particular not to cross at the same time nor to hop heavily and clumsily.

When they were safely on the other side, they hopped quickly after the Fairy Bunny, who was now some distance ahead. In a few minutes he stopped beside a little flower, shaped like a cup and as blue as the skies. Peeping in he gave a shout of joy. "Ha, ha!" he exclaimed, "it's full of Magic Syrup. Have you a little bottle in your knapsack?"

"Let me look," answered Little Jack Rabbit, slipping it off his shoulder and carefully hanging his red-striped candy cane back near by.

"I've found it," he cried gleefully, holding up a tiny bottle with a glass stopper. "One of mother's corked bottles. Lucky I put it in my knapsack."

"Yes, indeed," replied the Fairy Bunny, carefully bending the stalk to let the Magic Syrup flow into the little cut-glass bottle. "Now, be careful," he cautioned, handing it to the old gentleman bunny. "Take two drops before breakfast, three after lunch and four after supper. Repeat this for three days and the nasy:

"Magic Syrup, care my toe!
Eeny, meeny, miny, vio."

"I won't forget," laughed Uncle Lucky. "I remember when a boy reciting a little verse that went something like it. Goodness me, though it was years and years ago before an ache was in my toe," and with a wink at the bunny nephew, funny Uncle Lucky tucked the little bottle in his pink waistcoat pocket. Then lifting out his big gold watch, he exclaimed:

"Gracious me, how time does fly! We must be going, you and I."

And with the Fairy Bunny leading the hopped into the next story.

SAYS UNION JACK IS GOOD ENOUGH

OTTAWA, June 18—(By Canadian Press)—No action will be taken respecting a Canadian flag without the "full sanction of parliament," said Premier King in the house this afternoon, in answer to questions as to the government's intentions regarding a Canadian flag.

"Personally," said Mr. King, "I would be proud and happy to have the Union Jack represent Canada as a national flag and would not lend my support to any flag not having the Union as its most distinctive feature."

Mr. King said that the committee had been created for the purpose of only considering appropriate designs and the report of the committee would be made to parliament.

PANTAGES HAS FINE PROGRAM

"Plantation Days" Revue Proves Big Hit with Large Audiences

This week's bill at Pantages is one of the best and most varied that has been here for many a long day. It is a "unit show" and the entire bill is made up of a revue entitled "Plantation Days." Once it, a while Alexander Pantages sends around a "unit show" of this description and when that is the case patrons are bound to see something different from the ordinary run of programs as well as seeing something possibly a little more whole columns.

The cast of "Plantation Days" is colored and taken as a whole has plenty of vitality and puts the revue across with a bang loud enough to be heard for miles.

As is the case with most revues this particular one contains a wealth of material and to do full credit to each individual item would require whole columns.

Right from the rise of the first curtain to the fall of the last there is action a plenty for all at "Plantation Days."

There is plenty of talent in the revue and each and every member of the company is given every opportunity in the world to reveal his or her true merit.

Jones and Jones are as capable a pair of comedians as one could wish to see. They have a dry sense of humor and know how to get the most out of their material. Every moment they were on the stage was productive of some high class comedy and many a hearty guffaw. They are a valuable asset to the revue and would be desirable in any company.

The Five Crackerjacks are as nifty a quintet of high stepping dancers as have ever trod the boards of the local Pan house. They have many novel steps that are highly attractive in every way. Pep and punch are the keynotes of their work and two or three of their numbers are in themselves well worth going to see.

Blanche Galloway is a "blues" song interpreter par excellence. She is in a class by herself when it comes to putting over songs of this type. She has a fine personality and proves to be a big hit with the audience.

Scott Allen and Lee are a merry trio of syncopaters whose work is of a particularly high quality. Their stunts are refreshingly original and smack of the best.

Farrell and Chadwick offer a series of songs and mirth which found high favor with yesterday's matinee audience. They are both funny and have an original flow of material.

The Pepper chorus is a collection of classy and talented Creole Belles who give a display of dancing such as has not been seen hereabouts for many a day. They work in perfect accord and altogether make up one of the most attractive parts of the revue.

The Fourth Chapter of "The Face-Makers" proves equally as good as its predecessors.

Al Preston and his orchestra provided delightful numbers throughout the entire performance.

SPLENDID FEATURE PLAYING AT EMPRESS

"Welcome Home," the James Cruze-Paramount production, which opened at the Empress theatre on Wednesday will close its run there today.

If there has been a more humanly appealing or genuinely interesting picture shown on the screen before, we haven't seen it. "Welcome Home" is real. It carries a heartthrug and a laugh in every scene. It establishes James Cruze more firmly than ever as the master-director of the screen. For only Cruze can make a "Covered Wagon" and then follow it up with pictures of such a decidedly different nature as "Merton," "The Goose Hangs High" and now "Welcome Home."

You'll agree with us that here is a page from life itself.

Lois Wilson, Warner Baxter and Lucy Cotsgrave are featured at the head of a high class cast.

Tomorrow, Tom Mix in "Dick Turpin" will open a three day season.

CORINNE GRIFFITH PLAYING AT CAPITOL

Those who visit the Capitol theatre today to see Corinne Griffith in her latest masterpiece "Declasse," will make no mistake, for it is everything that the management have said about it. There is a wonderful cast who support this brilliant artist. "Declasse," may be regarded as one of the outstanding features of the screen this season. Another comedy scream is on the excellent program. "Wages of Tin," with Violet Johnston appearing matinee and evening today and tomorrow. Blanche Sweet and Ronald Colman are to be seen Saturday in "His Supreme Moment," another First National film special, with Capitol News and a giant comedy attraction.

ONE KILLED IN RAIL ACCIDENT

Two Cars, Crowded to Capacity, Wrecked in Rear-end Collision at London, Ont.

LONDON, Ont., June 18—One man is dead, five others are in Victoria hospital and a score or more others suffering painful hurts as a result of a midnight crash on the Spring Bank line of the London street railway.

Shortly after 12 o'clock this morning, two Spring Bank cars crowded to capacity with passengers came together at the Riverview stop, just west of the city.

A disconnected trolley pole had caused the stopping of the first car and thrown the vehicle into darkness. The second car, speeding on its last trip to the city for the night rounded a curve and crashed into the standing coach before scarcely a warning was sounded.

Charles W. Hoskins aged 55 years, Spring Bank inspector for the street railway, was killed outright. He was riding with the motorman of the second car and was struck by the control box as the front of the motorman's cubicle was crushed in as the cars collided. Death was instantaneous and it was found impossible to extricate Hoskins body after the crash.

Alden Painter, motorman of the second car, was seriously injured by the impact, though he miraculously escaped death. Crushed about the legs and with bodily injury from flying glass and ripped steel work, Painter's condition was regarded as serious when he was taken to the hospital.

Fred G. Harper, conductor of the first car, had his right shoulder dislocated and his right arm badly torn.

Four others were taken to the hospital.

SAILS WITH BODY

MONTREAL, June 18—The Melita sailed for England today with the remains of Sir William Peterson. The body was accompanied by W. T. R. Preston, a personal friend of Sir William, and F. A. McGregor, Premier King's secretary, who will represent the Dominion cabinet at the funeral.

CONDITION IS IMPROVED

NELSON, B.C., June 18—The condition of A. MacDonald, Winnipeg wholesale grocery magnate, who was taken to the hospital here last night suffering from severe bronchitis on his arrival from the coast, is somewhat improved today, his doctor announced.

OUT OUR WAY. By Williams

OLD ENOUGH TO BE NEW

Where do all the different styles come from, we often wonder? On the stage Blanche Yurka wears a shawl wound around her head in the fashion of the Norwegian peasant woman. She decided the same idea would make a chic new style, since the Norse women have been wearing it for centuries, so she wound a shawl around her head and appeared at the Belmont race track the other day. And now a new style has started. It is called the Gina turban, after the character Miss Yurka plays on the stage.

SAYS PRAYERS ARE ANSWERED

Roman Catholic Parish Prays and Men Are Acquitted of Protecting Bootleggers

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 18—The prayers of Rev. George F. Bennett, and his Roman Catholic parish at Weehawken for the acquittal of 12-men charged with giving protection to bootleggers have been answered.

Ten of the men, including nine Weehawken police, were acquitted late last night by a jury in Hudson county court here. Two others were discharged before the case went to the jury.

Father Bennett was the principal state witness. He testified at the first trial last January and at the retrial just ended, that he had run upon the men at the Weehawken river front last August. He threatened to thrash the first bootlegger who would attempt to continue landing cases of liquor from the rum runner tied at the dock.

Nine of the defendants are members of his parish. Last Sunday, the day before the second trial started, he led his congregation in prayer for the acquittal of the men. He said they had learned a lesson.

WAR VETERAN SHOOTS FRIEND—KILLS SELF

LONDONDERRY, N. H. June 18—of the Civil War, shot Nelson B. Hackett his friend and fellow veteran Charles S. Gay, a 92-year-old veteran today, and then committed suicide, according to the police. Hackett was not expected to live.

No incentive for the assault has been discovered the police said, beyond the fact that the men quarrelled about two weeks ago and had not been on speaking terms since that time. According to witnesses Gay shot Hackett with a revolver, and as soon as his former comrade fell to the floor, shot himself twice in the temple dying instantly. Hackett was taken to a hospital in Derry.

R. W. SMITH DIES

VANCOUVER, June 18—R. W. Smith, 40, son of Mary Ellen Smith, M.L.A., for Vancouver, died in hospital here today from pleurisy contracted last winter while stationed at Fifth Cabin, on the Yukon Telegraph line. He was brought here from Prince Rupert last Sunday.

WASHINGTON, June 18—Admiral S. S. Robinson, commander-in-chief of the battle fleet had been selected to succeed Admiral Robert E. Coontz, as commander-in-chief of the United States fleet.
